

What is Brazil's largest battery storage project?

Further details about Brazil's largest battery storage project to date have been revealed including its integrators and equipment providers. The inauguration of the 30MW/60MWh system took place last year, on the networks of transmission system operator (TSO) ISO CTEEP, as reported by Energy-Storage.news in November.

Could battery storage help large electricity consumers in Brazil?

Greener says that battery storage could help large electricity consumers in Brazil to cope with sharp differences between peak tariffs and off-peak tariffs. Batteries are already competitive for consumer energy storage in behind-the-meter applications in several Brazilian states.

Who sells energy source batteries in Brazil?

Up until this year, Energy Source had mainly been selling its products through a partnership with Brazil's largest PV product distributor, Aldo Solar, which also sells and distributes reused batteries.

Can a battery be recycled in Brazil?

Energy Source, a Brazilian battery specialist, is currently providing energy storage services with reused and recycled batteries. Battery recycling and related metals recovery are conducted separately, without the burning of materials. From pv magazine Brazil

How can Brazil expand the share of renewable sources?

"One way to expand the share of renewable sources in Brazil's power generation mix is by giving them greater predictability. A non-dispatchable, non-predictable renewable source, when combined with a storage system, becomes dispatchable, that is, more widely used by the national system operator.

Approximately four months after passing regulation seeking to encourage the incorporation of distributed generation systems into Brazil's distribution planning process, on August 7, 2012, the Brazilian Federal Energy Regulatory Agency (ANEEL) issued new rules (Resolu#231;ão Normativa (REN) No. 502/2012) governing the rollout of "smart" metering, which ...
