Europe and China are leading the installation of new pumped storage capacity - fuelled by the motion of water. Batteries are now being built at grid-scale in countries including the US, Australia and Germany. Thermal energy storage is predicted to triple in size by 2030. Mechanical energy storage harnesses motion or gravity to store electricity.

The pairs of streams create heat storage matches, or heat exchangers of possibly stored energy. All stream pairs can be made only between streams from different TSs. Assumptions are made on the internal matches between streams that appeared as a result of avoiding small heat exchangers in the accepted HEN solutions.
