

The Cvt pathway is essential for the delivery of Ams1 (a-mannosidase) and Ape1 (aminopeptidase I) to the vacuole. The completion of this process requires the participation of additional ATG proteins such as Atg11, Atg19, Atg20, Atg22, and Atg24 [].Unexpectedly, Atg11 appeared essential for glucose starvation-induced autophagy but not for the nitrogen ...

Li/CFx primary possesses the highest energy density of 2180 W h kg⁻¹ among all primary lithium batteries. However, a key limitation for the utility of this type of battery is in its poor rate capability because the cathode material, CFx, is an intrinsically poor electronic conductor. Here, we report on our development of a controlled process of surface de-fluorination under mild hydrothermal ...
